TYNECASTLE

[PATENT RIGHTS.]

TYNECASTLE CANVAS.

"Tynecastle" Canvas is the invention of the late WM. SCOTT MORTON, and derives its name from the district in Edinburgh where it is produced. Its distinctive merits are the artistic surface, unequalled colouring qualities, and the soundness and good-working nature of its fabric.

TYNECASTLE VELLUM.

"Tynecastle" Vellum is an inexpensive material of a texture resembling vellum, in which most of the "Tynecastle" designs are produced.

TYNECASTLE TEXTURES, VELTEX, AND WALLCLOTHS.

New fabrics specially suitable for picture backgrounds.

TYNECASTLE LEATHERS.

A revival of old styles of wall decoration in exclusive designs.

TYNECASTLE MOSAICS.

"Tynecastle" Mosaic panels are illustrated on pages 351 to 354. They consist of specially prepared frames, mounted with canvas panels, into which are inserted lustrous tesserae of a thin, new, vitreous mosaic, producing the luminous effect of colour so well known in fine old mosaic work.

WOOD MOULDINGS AND CORNICINGS.

The TYNECASTLE CO. supply Wood Mouldings to the sections indicated on pages 355 to 358 or any section required; also circles of cross-banded wood, squares, and octagons, to any section of moulding. All the parts required in wood for a Ceiling design can be provided mitred ready for fixing if a careful plan be given.

SHIP INTERIOR AND RAILWAY CAR DECORATION.

The TYNECASTLE CO. are prepared to submit designs and estimates for the complete decoration of Ship Saloons and Railway Cars in Fibrous Plaster and Tynecastle Canvas.

ADAPTABLE PLASTER, CANVAS, AND VELLUM.

A new method of applying detached ornaments to existing plain surfaces, giving a complete decorative effect at a minimum of cost.

SPECIAL DESIGNS.

Special Patterns can be prepared in about one month for the requirements of private firms and for special purposes, such as public buildings with heraldic devices, etc., for which estimates are given.

Instructions for Fixing and Handling.

"TYNECASTLE" CANVAS AND VELLUM.

1. FILLINGS.—Trim the edges to the fine guide line, and, after applying a thin coat of ordinary flour paste, allow the piece to soften for six or eight minutes; then apply a stiffer coat of paste, when the material may be fixed. Care should be taken not to allow the piece to soften longer than stated, and in hanging the material should not be strained. When the edges do not quite fit, the Canvas or Vellum may be stretched a little on each edge, and temporarily held with tacks or needle points till set.

2. FRIEZES AND CEILINGS are fixed in the same manner as Fillings, a small quantity of glue being added to the paste where the relief is heavy.

Designs in bold relief are so modelled as to give an irregular scribing line, thus avoiding cuts through prominent features.

IMPORTANT.—All material is sent out under a coat of size.

"TYNECASTLE" ADAPTABLE PLASTER.

1. Slightly tooth the plaster ceiling or wall surface, where possible, before fixing.

2. To fix the material in position use a mixture of stiff flour paste and glue.

NOTE.—Plaster Ornaments will not adhere to a painted or oily surface unless the paint is broken and all grease removed.

"TYNECASTLE" COMPO.

1. Do not open the parcel (except to check goods) until actually ready to commence fixing. Compo should be fixed not later than the tenth day after dispatch, and before then if possible.

2. See that surface to be treated is thoroughly dry and not of an oily nature. Natural wood is the best, though Compo adheres to paper, plaster, marble, metal, etc.

3. Have at hand a pail of hot water, a small sheet of tin or thin metal of any kind which can be dipped into the pail, a half-inch soft hair brush, a small sponge or rag, a dry cloth, some clean paper, and a table or flat board.

4. Lay Compo face downwards on a sheet of white paper, and with tepid water moisten the back of paper to which Compo is fixed several times during ten to fifteen minutes. When back paper is thoroughly softened, gently remove it with left hand, using in right hand a knife to assist in separating. Although Compo breaks in places no harm is done. Thereafter take sections of the Compo ornament as convenient and place back downwards upon the metal plate, after having dipped the plate in hot water and laid it across top of pail to keep hot. Then gently move the Compo upon the moistened surface of plate and apply it at once to the dry surface awaiting treatment, first striking a guiding line upon such surface to obtain accuracy in fixing. A soft brush is useful to keep plate moist and to coat the back of pieces of ornament too delicate to lay on plate. There is sufficient fixing medium in the Compo to render it adhesive without any other fixitive than hot water.

5. Take care to keep fingers dry, as the face of Compo will be blunted if touched with hot water, and exercise patience to obtain a successful result.

FOREWORD.

WE hereby offer our whole range of "Tynecastle" designs in FIBROUS PLASTER in so far as they are suitable (see page 405). Technical difficulties have been reduced to a minimum and in ordinarily skilful hands the possibilities are great.

The immediate object of the present issue is to gather together from our wealth of designs some of the most useful ornaments which specially lend themselves to treatment in FIBROUS PLASTER. Where economy is necessary, the same detached ornaments may be obtained in Skived CANVAS and Skived VELLUM, and your attention is directed to a few combined schemes at the end of this Catalogue.

The PARTHENON FRIEZE reproductions (page 407) are worthy of notice.

For SPECIAL DESIGNS we are prepared to submit estimates.

We also offer a fine selection of COMPO ornaments as illustrated on pages 408 to 415.

AS many "TYNECASTLE" Designs illustrated in our former Catalogues are actual reproductions of or founded upon Old Plaster Models, we are glad now to offer all such in FIBROUS PLASTER. The two designs opposite and the Friezes upon same page are examples of our extensive range.

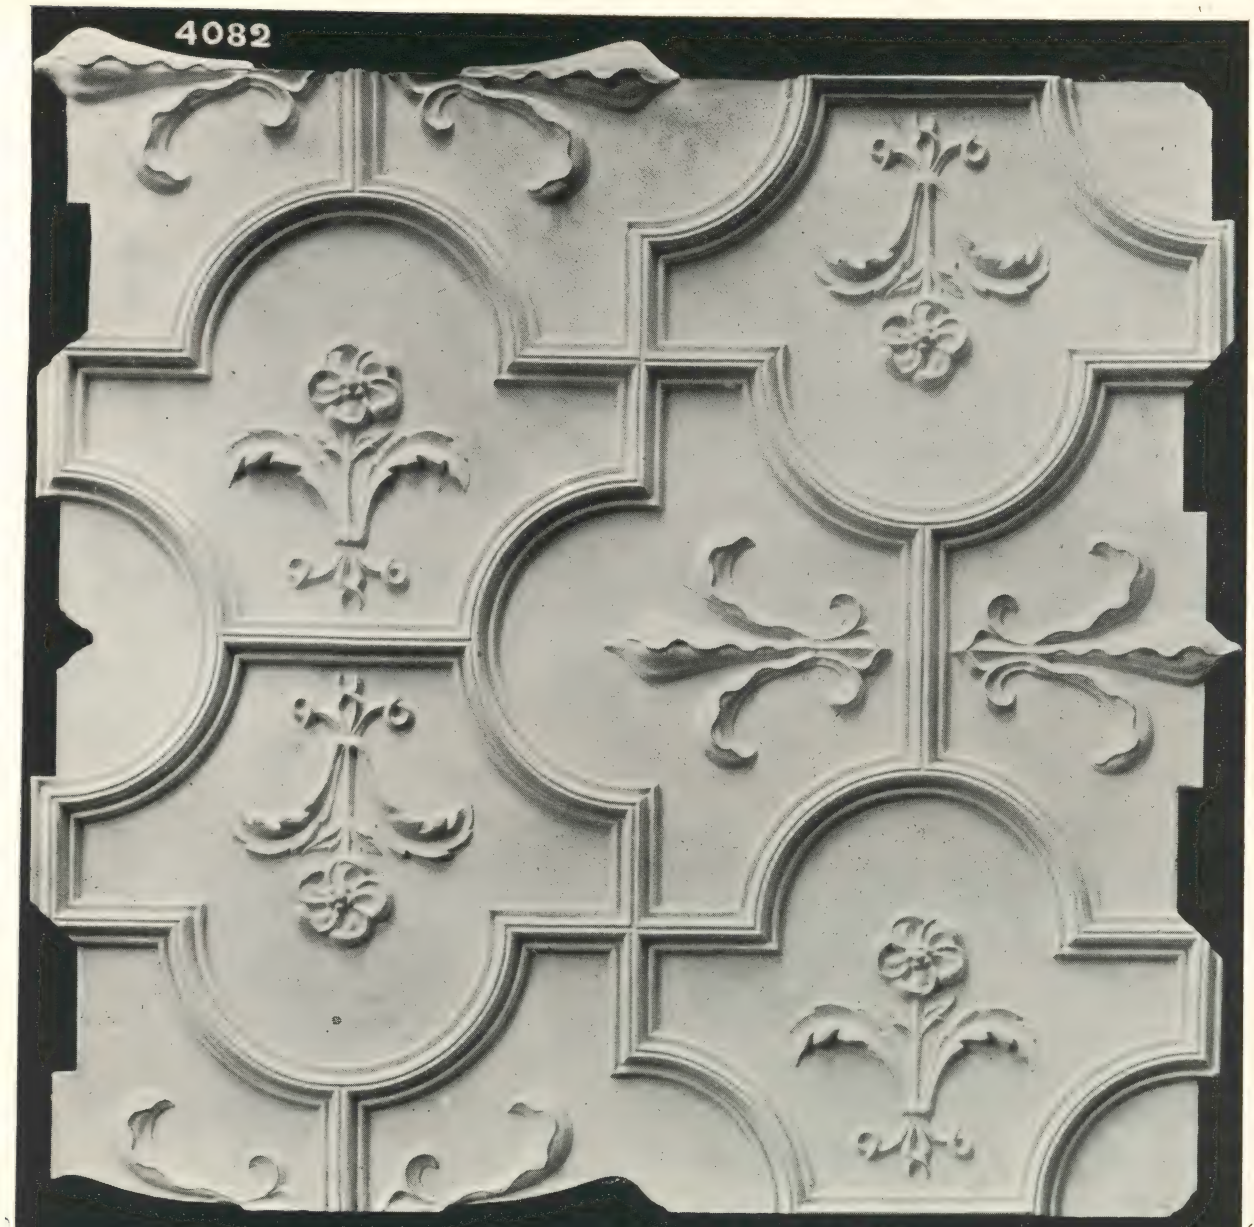

The slabs are supplied, where possible, with irregular scribing lines in order to effectually hide the joint and save the fixer time and trouble.

Prices of our stock designs in Ceilings, Friezes, etc., will be given on application, and a plan of the space to be treated should always accompany such a request. With orders a key plan and any necessary instructions will be sent to the fixers.

We are prepared to submit estimates for and supply any Special Design in FIBROUS PLASTER.

PARTHENON FRIEZE

IN HARDENED PLASTER

FOR INTERIOR DECORATION

Excerpt concerning this Frieze from an introduction by the late WM. SCOTT MORTON to a special Catalogue, which will be sent on application.

SINCE the time of Henning it does not appear that in this country any reduced restoration of the Parthenon Frieze has been achieved. That such an undertaking, involving so much modelling, should have been faced by one who is not a sculptor might seem presumptuous, but for two reasons the work was attempted. First, a patron wished me to do it, and next, a long-cherished desire prompted me that I might profit by a close study of this masterpiece. Full-size casts of the original slabs were obtained and restored, every fragment of the original work having been carefully retained. These slabs served as the models for the reduced sets. Instead of attempting the reduction by hand, as Henning seems to have done, it was resolved to obtain perfect accuracy by the use of a reducing appliance. A suitable instrument could not be found in this country, the best one available proving very slow and faulty in its working. A machine was specially designed, chiefly by my brother, Mr John Morton. The working of a revolving drill in fashioning the reduced models left a slightly corded surface, which was retained, being of artistic value in the opinion of some eminent sculptors who saw the work in progress.

The reductions are of two sizes, the larger one being 1 foot $11\frac{3}{4}$ inches in width over the figure plane, with a margin on each side of $1\frac{3}{8}$ inches. The smaller size measures 1 foot $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches over the figure plane, with a margin of $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches on each edge. The length of the larger frieze, including the upright margins as shown in the prints, is 91 feet 9 inches, and of the smaller one 52 feet 6 inches. The thickness of the slabs are $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches and $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches respectively. The upright divisions can be omitted or formed at any suitable points in the setting out.

The incident of the presentation of the Peplos, between the two groups of deities, is the central feature of the whole composition; to the left of these groups there are magistrates, and approaching towards them is a procession of virgins bearing sacrificial vessels. With these our representation of the frieze terminates on the left. To the right of the deities and magistrates there is a similar group of virgins bearing vessels also, and following these are cows and sheep for sacrifice, with attendants, bearers of offerings of fruit, youths carrying bottles, also musicians, sages, charioteers, and horsemen. With these the frieze on the right terminates. In arranging the groups for different wall-spaces there is necessarily some planning required, but generally it will be found that suitable division of sections can be obtained. The amount of frieze represented of the larger size was adapted to an apartment equal to a full-sized billiard room.

It is not necessary here to enter upon a detailed description of this great work of Phidias, as it has been very fully commented upon by all the eminent writers on ancient sculpture, and it will be sufficient to state that there is a general agreement that it represents the Panathenaic procession to the ancient temple of Athenè Polias on the Acropolis, in which was borne the Peplos which was embroidered by the most noble virgins of Athens for presentation to the goddess. The festival was both religious and political, and represented in its assembly all that was best in Greece of youth, beauty, nobleness and honour. The gods and goddesses are represented in an easy sitting attitude, as if waiting for the arrival of the procession and the presentation of the sacrifices and offerings. The seated posture gave the sculptor the opportunity for representing them of greater size than the mortals in other parts of the frieze. The seats, which are being borne by the two females, are supposed to be for the use of the priest and priestess after the delivery of the Peplos.

The photographs from which the illustrations were printed were taken in a light reflected from beneath, which is the direction of the light in which the originals were seen. Their position made it impossible for any direct light to shine on them, as will be easily understood by reference to illustrative section (p. 442). With the ordinary means of lighting by windows in the side or end walls in apartments in which this frieze might be used as a decoration, it has been found, after much experimenting, that a gilded effect in yellow or white metal, very much subdued, answers best.

The work of reducing the models of the friezes was executed at the ALBERT WORKS, TYNECASTLE, EDINBURGH, from which place the friezes are issued.

TYNECASTLE COMPO.

THE following COMPO designs are taken from boxwood moulds which have accumulated in our workshops for many years and now form a valuable collection. Each mould has originated in a specific architectural need, and great care has been bestowed upon its production.

Here, as in the case of the FIBROUS PLASTER ornaments, the 2-inch scale of our comprehensive "Tynecastle" Catalogue and Supplements has been maintained, and thus an accurate comparison is possible.
